

WEEK 3 | STRONG B2 PRODUCTION

Four sessions of 60 minutes. All IDs continue into the Answer Book and Error Tracker.

Develop answers with a specific reason and example. Use a paraphrase only if it preserves certainty and scope. Identify one plausible distractor before checking the key.

W3D1 - DAY 1 | 60 MIN

Plan and self-check inside each writing task time. Use the correction period for a targeted revision, not a complete second draft.

00-10 W3D1-E01 | Vocabulary

W3D1-E02 | WRITING PART 2 | 7 min

You have joined a photography club.

W3D1-E02-Q01 | 20-30 words

Describe one photographic skill you want to develop and how you would use it.

W3D1-E03 | WRITING PART 4 | 30 min

You have joined a photography club.

Announcement

The exhibition will accept only one photograph per member. Each image must include a short explanation of why the subject matters to its photographer.

W3D1-E03-Q01 | 40-50 words

Email a friend who is also a member. Tell a friend which image you are considering and ask for focused feedback.

W3D1-E03-Q02 | 120-150 words

Email the organiser. Recommend how the selection and explanation requirement should work, addressing both experienced members and beginners.

Use the remaining 13 minutes: check the key and underline evidence for wrong objective answers; improve one weak sentence or re-record one speaking response; record up to three priority errors with these exact IDs. At the next session, cover the corrections and retrieve them before rereading.

W3D2 - DAY 2 | 60 MIN

Plan and self-check inside each writing task time. Use the correction period for a targeted revision, not a complete second draft.

Should the programme prioritise local performers or well-known guests?

W3D2-E03 | WRITING PART 4 | 30 min

You are helping with a neighbourhood festival.

Announcement

A sponsor will fund the main stage only if its advertising occupies the front of the programme. The organisers are considering accepting this condition.

W3D2-E03-Q01 | 40-50 words

Email a friend who is also a member. Share your reaction with another volunteer and suggest a question to raise at the meeting.

Email the organiser. Evaluate the offer, explain one benefit and one risk, and recommend a condition that would protect the festival's local character.

Use the remaining 10 minutes: check the key and underline evidence for wrong objective answers; improve one weak sentence or re-record one speaking response; record up to three priority errors with these exact IDs. At the next session, cover the corrections and retrieve them before rereading.

W3D3 - DAY 3 | 60 MIN

After the first speaking run, use part of the correction period to listen back and repeat the weakest response once. Keep the original recording for comparison.

Answer: _____

W3D3-E02 | THE PLEASURE OF BEING A BEGINNER | 14 min

Match seven paragraphs to seven of the eight headings. Use each selected heading once; one is extra.

- | | |
|--|---|
| A. Failure provides more precise information | B. Comparison depends on what is visible |
| C. Why talent should decide who attends | D. A lesson beyond the workshop |
| E. Practice needs a manageable target | F. A demonstration does not equal understanding |
| G. Competence can become a hiding place | H. An imperfect result can remain valuable |

1. I had spent years choosing leisure activities I was already good at. Then a friend persuaded me to join a pottery class. My first bowl collapsed before I could lift it from the wheel. The embarrassment revealed how carefully I had been protecting my reputation as a capable person.
2. Watching the tutor shape clay looked reassuringly simple. Trying it exposed what the demonstration concealed: pressure had to change continuously as the material moved. I could repeat the instructions aloud without being able to perform them. Knowledge of the steps was only the beginning of learning.
3. The tutor did not call my second attempt bad. She showed where one wall had become thinner than the other and asked me to notice the pressure of my left hand. A visible fault gave us a specific question to investigate, which was more useful than a general judgement about ability.
4. Across the room, another beginner produced a remarkably even cup. Later I discovered that he repaired musical instruments for a living. His experience with delicate manual work was relevant, despite his lack of pottery lessons. The label 'beginner' had concealed an important difference between us.
5. For several sessions I concentrated on making walls of equal thickness. Decoration could wait. Limiting my attention did not make the activity less creative; it gave me enough control to attempt new shapes later. Trying to improve everything at once had previously left me unsure what caused each result.
6. I still use one early cup, although its handle is awkward. It reminds me of the decisions I made and the problems I eventually understood. Keeping it is not a claim that quality is irrelevant. It is a way of recognising progress that a flawless purchased object could never record.
7. Now, when I avoid something because I might look foolish, I ask whether competence is actually required before starting. Some activities involve serious risks and demand proper instruction. Many others simply require accepting a period of visible uncertainty. That period can be enjoyable once it stops feeling like a verdict.

W3D3-E02-Q01 Paragraph 1: select its main heading. _____

W3D3-E02-Q02 Paragraph 2: select its main heading. _____

W3D3-E02-Q03 Paragraph 3: select its main heading. _____

W3D3-E03 | SPEAKING | 12 min

Use the full timed sequence. Parts 1-3: no preparation pause. Part 1: 30 seconds per response. Parts 2-3: 45 seconds per response. Part 4: 1 minute preparation and one 2-minute response covering all three questions.

W3D3-E03-Q01 | Part 1

1. What is a skill you would like to learn?
2. Where do you prefer to study?
3. How do you remember useful information?

W3D3-E03-Q02 | Part 2

Photo brief: An adult learner is practising a short presentation in front of a small class. She holds a card with notes, while the tutor watches from the side.

1. Describe the photograph.
2. When have you had to explain something to other people?
3. Why can practising in front of others be useful?

1. Compare the photographs.
2. What different kinds of learning do these settings support?
3. Can practical experience replace formal instruction?

W3D3-E03-Q04 | Part 4

1. Tell me about feedback that helped you improve.
2. What made it useful or difficult to accept?
3. Should teachers correct every mistake immediately?
